

Thinking of Selling?

If you are considering selling your property and don't know who you can trust, then read on.

All real estate agents perform the same basic service. The difference is who you think you can trust and who you think you can work with. Grey Box Solutions is a boutique agency that does not chase sales leads which means we can spend more time marketing and promoting your property.

For the professional service of showing your property and turning enquiries into sales, the professional fee is a low percentage of the final sale price (including GST). There are also other costs associated with selling your property including floor plans, photography and signage just to name a few. Rest assured you will not sign a contract to begin the marketing of your property until you know exactly how much it will cost you. All costs incurred in the sale of your property are charged at cost rate - there is no additional markup.
